Note from the Editor~

Greetings, peaches!

Firstly we'd like to apologize for the delay of this month's newsletter, with the holiday season and everyone getting back into the swing of things we wanted to ensure we were getting all the important info to you.

Now to get into this month's newsletter, it's going to be short and sweet with just a few reminders, highlights from the Christmas party, and the usual puzzles.

Also be sure to fill out the interest form for viewing Okayama's naked man festival next month - you don't want to miss it!

As always, we'd like to remind you that we are looking for contributors. Whether you have photos of unique spots you've explored, events you've attended within the prefecture, stories from your time on the JET Programme, or even book and movie recommendations, we'd love to feature you.

Recap on Omikuji and Omamori

Omikuji おみくじ

Last month we briefly went over what to do during your first shrine visit of the year. Hopefully you were able to go and pick up an omikuji (fortune slip), if not be sure to bring 100円 of your own when you do go as it's bad luck to borrow someone else's .

If you have had a chance to go here is a reminder of what your fortune means:

- dai-kichi (大吉) - great blessing
- chuu-kichi (中吉) - middle blessing
- sho-kichi (小吉) - small blessing
- kichi (吉) - blessing
- sue-kichi (末吉) - ending blessing
- kyo (凶) - curse
- dai-kyo (大凶) - great curse

Like many of you I went to Kibitsu Jinja for hatsumode, I was lucky enough to get a blessing, nothing huge but at least it wasn't a curse. If you receive(d) a curse read it over as it usually gives you advice on what to do or not do, and tie it up! As you can see in the background of the photo to the left there are many fortune slips tied. This was you are leaving the negative energy behind and entrusting the shrine deity to help you out.

Regardless if you pulled great luck or great curse keep in mind that you are in control of your future and the fortune slip isn't set in stone, it's what you do with the info you've been given.

OMAMORI お守り

Omamori are small, beautifully decorated charms believed to offer protection and blessings. The word “omamori” comes from the verb 守る (mamoru), meaning “to protect” or “to guard.” These charms are often purchased as tokens of good fortune, safety, or success.

Omamori come in different varieties, each serving a specific purpose. Some common types include:

1. 勝守 (Katsumori) : For success; to win/succeed at something you have hoped for
2. 交通安全 (Kōtsū Anzen): For safe travels, especially driving.
3. 学業成就 (Gakugyō Jōju): For academic success and good exam results.
4. 縁結び (Enmusubi): For love and strong relationships.
5. 健康祈願 (Kenkō Kigan): For good health and recovery from illness.
6. 安産 (Anzan): For a safe pregnancy and childbirth.
7. 仕事成就 (Shigoto Jōju): For success in work or business.

HADAKA MATSURI
(NAKED MAN FESTIVAL)

FEB

15

SATURDAY

Every year on the 3rd Saturday of February, Saidaiji Temple in Okayama hosts one of Japan's most unique and intense traditions: the Hadaka Matsuri, or Naked Man Festival. Thousands of men, dressed in nothing but fundoshi (loincloths) and tabi socks, gather to compete for sacred wooden sticks (shingi) thrown into the crowd. These sticks are believed to bring good luck for the year.

While anyone can cheer on this wild event, if you are a man you can also participate by registering beforehand (no tattoos, sorry!). Registration is now open and costs ¥3000, sign up here. It's a fascinating mix of tradition, endurance, and excitement that truly showcases the spirit of Okayama. Whether you're watching or taking part, it's an experience you won't forget!

Starting at a 3:30pm and finishing after the Shingi Touka; the final/main event which starts at 10pm.

As we are hoping to get together to watch the festival together please fill out a quick survey here to let us know if you are interested!

*Seats range from 6000-8000 yen
Standing viewing is 1000 yen

Merry
